DAN THOMAS & PHIL COOPER

Nos Wener
23 Mehefin

Friday 23 June

7:30pm

Noson o gomedi Cymraeg gan ddau o brif gomediwyr Cymru.

Dan Thomas
Wrth i ni fyw trwy oes teroristiaeth mae Dan Thomas yn cyflwyno sioe gomedi am ei fagwraeth… gan deroristiaid! Tra roedd plant eraill yn mynd i gysgu i gyfeiliant hwiangerddi a storiau tylwyth teg, cadwyd Dan Thomas ar ddihun tan yr oriau man gan polemics ei fam am gyfiawnhad moesol llofruddiaeth gwleidyddol a rol hanfodol militia arfog. Roedd rhieni Dan yn aelodau o'r Free Wales Army. Dyma sioe gomedi am fagwraeth lle nad oedd cyfaddawdi yn opsiwn.

Phil Cooper
Mae Phil Cooper yn lais unigryw o'r Rhondda, ond yn bwysicach na hyn, mae'n lais unigryw o fyd comedi. Mae'r sioe yma'n gyfuniad o oreuon ei ddwy sioe Caeredin flaenorol yn ogystal ag uchafbwyntiau ei sioe Caeredin llynedd ("Manic Pixie Dream Boy").

Perfformiad trwy gyfrwng y Gymraeg.
Darperir bar ar y nos.

A night of Welsh-language comedy from two experienced comedians who have gigged the length and breadth of Britain.

Dan Thomas
Dan Thomas presents a stand up show about his up-bringing… by terrorists. While other children were being tucked up in bed with bedtime stories and nursery rhymes, Dan was kept wide awake by his Mam's polemics about the moral justification of political assassination and the crucial role of an armed militia. Dan's parents were members of the Free Wales Army and this is a story about an upbringing where compromise was not an option.

Phil Cooper
Phil Cooper is a unique comedy voice from the Rhondda, and yet he doesn't feel properly Welsh – he can't sing, wanted to be a wrestler not a rugby player and he has never committed fraud with public money. This performance features the highlights from his three previous Edinburgh Festival shows

Performance through the medium of Welsh.
Bar available on the night.

Mae'r Gwarchodfa Standing Rock yn gartref i bobl Dakota a Lakota o'r Llwyth Standing Rock Sioux. Er gwrthwynebiad cryf y Llwyth, rhoddwyd caniatad i'r Dakota Access Pipeline i groesi Lake Oahe fel rhan o adeiladu pibell 1,100 milltir a fyddai'n cario dros hanner miliwn casgen o olew crai Bakken i Illinois ac ar draws pedair talaith. Mae'r llwybr presennol yr adeiladu yn llai na hanner milltir o ffin y llwyth, ac mae yna leoliadau ar hyd y bibell sydd o bwysigrwydd crefyddol a diwylliannol i'r llwyth, gan gynnwys mannau claddu hynafol. Hefyd mae'r bibell yn peryglu cyflenwad dwr dros 20,000 o bobl.

STANDING WITH STANDING ROCK

IN SOLIDARITY WITH THE WATER PROTECTORS OF THE STANDING ROCK SIOUX TRIBE

Saturday 13 May

Hosted by Stephen J Preston, featuring Amy Wadge, Rhian Grundy, Clare Potter and more.

All proceeds to the Indigenous Environmental Network.
www.ienearth.org

The Standing Rock Sioux Indian Reservation is home to Dakota and Lakota people of the Standing Rock Sioux Tribe. Despite their strong objections, the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers granted authorization to the Dakota Access Pipeline to cross Lake Oahe as part of the construction of a 1,100-mile pipeline that is proposed to carry over a half-million barrels of Bakken crude oil to Illinois and across four states. The current route of construction takes the pipeline less than half a mile from the Tribe's reservation border, and all along the route of the pipeline are sites of religious and cultural significance to the tribe, including burial sites of their ancestors. Further, the pipeline endangers the water supply to over 20,000 people.
